Harding Could Announce Names of All Members.

NO SELECTION IS MADE FROM SOUTH

Belief of Those in Touch with the Situation.

Harding Talks of Guiding Principles in Selecting Members of His Official Family—A Tribute Paid Daugherty.

St. Augustine, Florida, Feb. 22.—President-Elect Harding's cabinet slate today stands as follows:

Secretary of War—John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of the Navy—Edwin Denby, of Michigan.

Secretary of the Interior—A. B. Fall, of New Mexico.

Secretary of Commerce—Herbert Hoover, of California.

Attorney General—Harry M. Daugherty, of Ohio.

Postmaster General—Will H. Hays, of Indiana.

Secretary of Agriculture—Henry Wallace, of Iowa.

Secretary of Labor—James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, or James Duncan, of Massachusetts.

Edwin Denby.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 22.—President-Elect Harding has virtually selected Edwin Denby, ex-congressman from Michigan and a prominent Detroit Republican, to be secretary of the navy in his cabinet, it was learned today. Denby's appointment, if finally consummated, will complete the Harding cabinet, with the possible exception of the labor portfolio.

President-Elect Harding's advisers regard the probable appointment as a particularly desirable one. Mr. Denby can bring into the cabinet a wide knowledge of Far-Eastern affairs and also a working knowledge of the navy, from the inside. Denby is not widely known outside of Michigan.

Probable Secretary.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Edwin Denby, of Detroit, who is understood to be the probable secretary of the navy in President-Elect Harding's cabinet, is the son of a former United State minister to China and has served as an enlisted man in the United States navy and the United States marine corps.

Denby went to China, in 1885, with his father, Charles Denby, and entered the imperial maritime customs service, later returning to the United States and entering the university of Michigan. Since 1896, he has practiced law in Detroit.

During the Spanish-American war, Denby served as a gunner's mate on the U. S. Yosemite.

In 1917, he became a sergeant in the United States marine corps, for service in the World war and was retired as a major in the United States marine corps reserve, in January, 1919.

Denby was a member of congress from Michigan, from 1905 to 1911. He was born at Evansville, Indiana, January 18, 1870.

Could Name Them.

St. Augustine, Florida, Feb. 22.—President-Elect Harding has practically completed his four-months deliberation on his cabinet and it is necessary, he could announce, today, the names of the ten men who will begin to function as his chief advisers March 4.

Only two of these men have been definitely and officially announced—Charles E. Hughes, for secretary of state, and Harry M. Daugherty, for attorney general—it was indicated, today, by those close to the president-elect, that the naval and war portfolios, concerning which a great deal of uncertainty has been manifested, have been determined.

Herbert Hoover, it is believed, will be the next secretary of commerce and the naval berth, a man mentioned who has hitherto been unknown in cabinet speculation, is known to believe that the secretary of the navy will be a "dark horse," a man familiar with international affairs and with the intimate working knowledge of the navy. It was said, today, that the appointment will come as a surprise to the public.

The identity of the man has been carefully

TO ESTABLISH AN AIR-MAIL ROUTE

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—In an effort to establish a new trans-continental air mail record, two planes took off, early today, for Reno, Nevada, where two other planes were waiting to relay the mail eastward, in a night-and-day flight against time. Farr Nutter and A. Little piloted the two planes that left here at 4:30 a. m., for Reno and planes from New York are expected to reach here, tomorrow night.

VICTIM OF ROBBERY OF $30,000 IN GEMS

Mrs. Mildred Cummings, wife of David Cummings, wealthy woollen merchant, of New York, who lost jewelry valued at $30,000 on a train arriving at Pennsylvania station, New York City. Affable travelling companions, who used a French woman as a tool, are believed to have stolen the jewelry. Mrs. Cummings was returning from a visit to her parents in St. Louis. Just before the train reached New York several men accompanied by a French woman, engaged Mrs. Cummings in conversation. When she went to a retiring-room to change her gown the French woman followed and assisted her. The jewels were in a small bag which she brought into the compartment at the time.

M'GANNON IS ASKED TO QUIT

Cleveland Bar Committee Takes Action on Judge.

INVESTIGATION BY BAR ASSOCIATION

Move To Have Three Trials Covering Kagy Killing and Perjury Charges Probed.

Cleveland, Feb. 22.—A request that Judge William H. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal court, recently acquitted of the murder of Harold C. Kagy, immediately resign from the bench, was voiced in resolutions adopted by the executive committee of the Cleveland bar association, given out by the secretary, late yesterday.

The committee, also, called upon the bar association to raise funds for an independent investigation of the Kagy killing and of all phases of the charges connected therewith, also the prosecuting attorney was asked to lay all evidence in the three Kagy trials before the grand jury, with a view to possible prosecutions for perjury.

Judge McGannon could not be reached, this morning, it being stated at his home that he was out of town and would not return until a late hour tonight.

After his acquittal, he announced that he would resume his place on the bench immediately.

DIPLOMACY OF THE OCCIDENT

Exerted To Unite Rival Delegations of Turks.

TURKEY AND GREECE IN BITTER STRUGGLE

Each Seeks Domination in the Near East.

Turkey Handicapped by Factional Fight—Progress of the Conference on Far-Eastern Problems Over in London.

London, Feb. 22.—Occidental diplomacy was exerted, today, to bring about unity between the rival Turkish delegations attending the Near-East conference. This afternoon was to have seen the second stage of the struggle to decide whether Turkey or Greece is to be the dominant factor in the Near East, with the Turks presenting their case, but on account of the intense antagonism between the Turkish factions representing the Nationalists and the Constantinople government, it was decided to postpone the sitting until tomorrow.

The "Kemalist" or Nationalist delegates held a conference at the Savoy hotel, to discuss the allied request that they join with the representatives of the Constantinople government in making a single plea in behalf of Turkey. The British announced that there was every reason to believe that unity between the rival Trkish delegations would be effected before Wednesday's session.

A hearing will be given to the Arabs and Armenians, later in the week.

To Revise Treaty.

There were strong indications this afternoon that the treaty of Sevres will be revised so that Turkey will regain at least part of her pre-war dominions.

Following a conference at the Savoy hotel, in which both rival Turkish delegations were represented, the following statement was issued:

"The Turks will bury their international differences and there is ground to hope for a junction so that the Turkish envoys will present a united front to the allies, Wednesday, against the treaty of Sevres."

It is known that France and Italy have come to favor at least partial revision of the Turkish treaty, while the opposition of the British against modification of the treaty seems to be weakening.

Efforts have been under way to bring about a reconciliation between the rival Turkish delegations: One representing the Constantinople government, headed by Tewfix Pasha; the other representing the Nationalist government at Angora, headed by Bekir Sami Bey.

The Pall Mall Gazette printed an article, written by "a delegate," pointing of that, as there are 100,000,000 Moslems who are British subjects, there apparently is ground for belief that Premier Lloyd George is pledged not to participate in the complete dismemberment of Trkey.

TWENTY-NINE ARE KILLED SINCE SUNDAY

Many Slain in Ireland Placarded as Spies.

Dublin, Feb. 22.—At least twenty-nine persons have been killed in Ireland since Sunday, according to a casualty list compiled here, today. None of the dead were soldiers or policemen, but many were listed as spies. The Republicans have opened a grim warfare against men within their own ranks who were suspected of traitorous conduct towards the cause. Ten of the civilians found shot to death since Sunday bore cards with the word, "spy," or were otherwise identified as victims of the Sinn Feiners.

NOTED TENOR NOW SURE OF RECOVERY

Enrico Caruso Is Able To Sit Up Today.

New York, Feb. 22.—Enrico Caruso, noted tenor, is "getting along splendidly and had a good night," it was announced at his apartment at his hotel here, today.

"We are sure now that the serious part of his illness is over and from this day on, he will steadily improve.

"He ate a good breakfast and later, the morning papers were read to him."

The patient was to be allowed to sit up a while in bed, today.

THREE FIREMEN ARE INJURED

Others Have Narrow Escapes in Columbus.

AN EXPENSIVE BLAZE IN A RESTAURANT

Fire Fighters Are Hurt While Engaged in Hard Battle To Check Flames.

Columbus, Feb. 22.—Three city firemen were hurt, and three others experienced narrow escapes from death, during a $50,000 fire which started here today in the basement of the Ohio State lunch-room, No. 11 south High street, opposite the statehouse. The injured firemen are: M. L. Stewart, broken ribs, due to walking into a hole; Acting Battalion Chief Harry Kemp, cut about chin when knocked down by running into a wire on the roof of the burning building; Fred. Walters, broken arm, sustained when the auto in which he was hurrying to the fire upset and was wrecked.

Although the origin of the fire is undetermined, it is believed to have originated in the basement underneath the restaurant cigar counter.

While the firemen held the flames to the building, adjoining business firms sustained losses from smoke and water. Using gas masks, the firemen fought the flames an hour and a half before getting them under control.

Assistant Fire Chief A. E. Nice and Fireman Tom. Hartman and Clarence Osbern were cutting a hole through a floor when it dropped to the basement and they were surrounded with flames. Rushing through the strangling smoke, other firemen rescued them and led them and led them to the street.

The loss on the building is placed at $15,000, the other $35,000 damage being distributed among the adjoining business firms.

HEART DISEASE KILLS WILLIAM F. M'COMBS

McCombs Manages First Campaign of Wilson.

Greenwich, Connecticut, Feb. 22.—William F. McCombs, former chairman of the Democratic committee, who managed the first presidential campaign of Woodrow Wilson, died here, today, of heart disease.

William Frank McCombs, who has been critically ill for several weeks, was born in Hamburg, Arkansas, December 26, 1875. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in New York City, in 1901. He was a Democrat and early in his legal career, became interested in politics.

McCombs was made Democratic national chairman, in 1912, a post he held for four years. In the year following Mr. Wilson's first election to the presidency, Mr. McCombs was offered the American ambassadorship to France, but declined it.

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS IN

Baehr and Harris on Board of Administration.

NEW APPOINTTEES ARE PHYSICIANS

New Board Is To Make a Survey of Ohio State Institutions at Once.

Columbus, Feb. 22.—Governor Davis announced the appointment of Dr. L. D. Harris, Columbus surgeon and chief of staff of St. Francis hospital, and Dr. Edmund M. Baehr, nerve specialist on the staff of Cincinnati general hospital, as the Democratic members of the board of administration.

With their names he sent to the senate for confirmation also those of Marshall Sheppey, Toledo, and T. C. Shaw, Akron, Republicans. Their salaries will be $5,000.

Dr. Edward Reinert and H. S. Riddle, former Republican members of the board, having relinquished their duties some time ago, the senate immediately confirmed Sheppey and Shaw. This was objected to by Entley of Richland, who said he wanted to know something about men he voted to confirm. He asked if Sheppey and Shaw had recommendations from their county Republican committee. Whittemore, of Summit, replied they were not political appointments.

When Reynolds of Cuyahoga, Democrat, announced he wanted to satisfy himself first if Drs. Harris and Baehr were Democrats, their confirmation was postponed.

The same kind of opposition was manifested in the senate to the appointment of Tinker as developed to that of George T. Poor, Cincinnati, for the utilities commission. When it came to a showdown, only two refused to vote against confirmation of Poor. That against Tinker is expected to be similar in extent.

Poor was designated chairman of the utilities commission by Governor Davis because of absence from duty of C. C. Marshall, Democrat, on account of illness.

Dr. Harris was physician at the school for the deaf under ex-Governor Harmon. He is assistant professor of clinical surgery at Ohio State university. It is said he told the governor he would accept appointment with the hope it would be only for a few months.

The governor said he would ask the new board to make a survey of state hospitals and other institutions and report to him existing conditions in order that prompt steps may be taken to improve them.

W. G. Sharp, Elyria, who had been asked to be one of the Democratic members, wrote the governor pressure of personal business affairs forbade acceptance.

Attorney E. A. Tinker of Columbus was named a member of public utilities commission, succeeding Dooley W. [illegible] Poor, who [illegible]

COSSACKS HAVE TAKEN TEHERAN

Persian Capital Falls into New Hands.

OLD GOVERNMENT OUSTED, SAYS REPORT

Shah of Persia Is Practically a Prisoner.

Ruler Negotiates with Persian Rebels Headed by General Rezakahn—Jap Sentry Is Cleared by Military Court.

New York, Feb. 22.—The Russian soviet has opened its "offensive" of the Near East, according to indications, today. The pro-British government of Persia is reported to have been overthrown, evidently by the armed force that seek a treaty of alliance between Persia and soviet Russia. The little republic of Georgia has been overrun by "Red" troops and Tiflis, the capital, has been occupied. Russian troops not only have gained control of the rich oil fields in the Caucasus, but have opened the way for a junction of forces with the Turkish Nationalists and appear to be making progress in their gigantic effort to open the road to India.

The International News service, in an exclusive story from Moscow, February 15, gave the details of the Russo-Persian treaty and carried a long interview with Lev Michaelovitch Karakhan, assistant people's commissar for foreign affairs, in the Moscow government, setting forth the aims of Russia towards Persia.

Government Falls.

Paris, Feb. 22.—The Anglophile government of Persia has been overthrown by Persian Cossacks, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Teheran, today. The shah of Persia is said to be practically a prisoner in his palace. The Persian Cossacks have occupied all of Teheran, the Persian capital, the despatch added.

The text of the despatch follows:

"Two thousand five hundred Persian Cossacks, who were opposed to the Anglophile government of Persia, have occupied the city—Teheran—and thrown out the old administration. The shah of Persia is practically a prisoner. He is negotiating with the Persian rebels who are headed by General Rezakahn."

[The Persian Cossacks composed an independent military force that policed the country in days of the Russian czarist government, when Persia was divided in two "spheres of influence"—one Russian, the other English. The Persian Cossacks were officered by Russians. It was understood, however, that the Cossacks have been supporting the shah's government and the foregoing despatch is the first information that they have gone over to the Russian Bolsheviks who are conducting a powerful campaign to form a treaty of alliance with Persia.]

Sentry Is Cleared.

Tokio, Feb. 22.—The Japanese sentry who shot and killed American Naval Lieutenant William H. Langdon, at Vladivostok, several weeks ago, has been found not guilty by the court-martial which tried him, according to advices reaching here.

The court-martial voted that the blame should be placed, for the Langdon killing, on the troop detachment commander at Vladivostok, who has been suspended.

A Memorial.

Washington, Feb. 22.—President Wilson will, today, receive a delegation from the Wilson club, of Harvard university. FIRST REPRIEVE IS GRANTED BY DAVIS

Columbus, Feb. 22.—The first reprieve granted by Governor Davis goes to Nelson J. Hargar, twenty-three, Butler county, sentenced to be electrocuted at the penitentiary, March 1. Hargar was convicted of killing a merchant police man at Hamilton. The governor granted a reprieve until September 21. It is believed Hargar will die soon, from tuberculosis of which he has suffered a long time.

WOMAN PROSECUTOR IN WANDERER TRIAL

Rose C. Sullivan, of Chicago, recently named assistant prosecutor by State's Attorney Crowe, will aid in the prosecution of Carl Wanderer, according to reports from Chicago. Speaking of her appointment in the trial, she said: "If I am to be associated in the prosecution of Carl Wanderer nothing would please me better than to have a jury of women decide the case. A jury of men had the case, and I believe fell down on it." This will be Wanderer's second trial. On the first trial he was convicted of the murder of his wife and sentenced to twenty-five years. He will be tried this time for the murder of a stranger man whom he confesses he hired to stage a fake hold-up and then shot and killed him.

MISTAKE MADE IN LIQUOR BILL

Senate Calls Measure Back from Governor.

SOME PROVISIONS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Secret Sessions of Legislative Committee Held.

Changes Touching Highway Department Are Being Probed. Solons Observe Birth Anniversary of Washington.

Brief sessions, this morning, were marked by addresses on George Washington, by Senator Archer, Noble county, in the senate and by Representative Dunn, Wood county, in the house.

Then automobiles carried the solons to Ohio State university for a day's inspection of buildings and grounds and enjoyment of a special program of entertainment arranged in their honor by university officials.

The senate has received from the governor's office the Pure-Pure compulsory liquor law bill. There is some question as to the constitutionality of the provisions of the bill for a tax of twenty cents a gallon on liquors when removed from warehouse. The measure was rule requires payment of taxes on the "true value in money" of liquors. The legislature plan to amend the measure so as to require payment of [illegible] taxes on the [illegible] value, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

MESSAGE SENT BY PRESIDENT

Wilson Informs Congress of Belgian Agreement.

PRESIDENT AND TWO PREMIERS IN PACT

Plan To Accept Special Issue of German Bonds for Belgium's War Debt.

"To the senate and house of representatives.

"I herewith call your attention to an agreement with Belgium, made by the British and French premiers and myself, which is embodied in the following letter:

"June 16, 1919.

"M. Hymans, Minister des Affaires Etrangeres.

"Hotel Lotti, Paris.

"Sir:—The reparation clauses of the draft treaty of peace with Germany obligate Germany to make reimbursement of all sums which Belgium has borrowed from the allied and associated governments, up to November 11, 1918, on account of the violation by Germany of the treaty of 1839. As evidence of such an obligation, Germany is to make a special issue of bonds to be delivered to the reparation commission.

"Each of the undersigned will recommend to the appropriate governmental agency of his government that, upon the delivery to the reparation commission of such bonds, his government accept an amount thereof corresponding to the sums which Belgium has borrowed from his government since the war and up to November 11, 1918, together with interest at five per cent., unless already included in such sums, in satisfaction of Belgium's obligation on account of such loans, which obligation of Belgium's shall thereupon be cancelled.

"We are, dear Mr. Minister,

"Very truly yours,

"[Signed.]

"G. Clemenceau,

"Woodrow Wilson,

"D. Lloyd George.

"In recommending to you that congress take appropriate action with regard to this agreement, certain facts should be brought to your attention.

An Explanation.

"The neutrality of Belgium was guaranteed by the treaty of London, of 1839. In considering the reparation to be made by Germany, it was agreed that the action of Germany in grossly violating this treaty by an attack on Belgium, obligated the German government, under international law, to repay to Belgium the costs of war. On this principle, the treaty of Versailles—article 232—provided that in accordance with Germany's pledges already given to the complete restoration for Belgium, Germany should be undertaken, in addition to the compensation for material damage, to make reimbursement of all sums which Belgium had borrowed from the allied and associated governments, up to November 11, 1918, together with interest at five per cent. per annum on such sums. This obligation was to be discharged by a special issue of bearer bonds to an equivalent amount payable in gold marks, May 1, 1926, or, at the option of the German government, on the first of May in any year up to 1926.

"For various reasons, the undertaking defined in the above letter was not embodied in the treaty. Belgium's obligations to the United States for advances made up to the date of the armistice, amounted to approximately $171,000,000 and to England and France, they amounted, I am informed, to about $164,700,000. In view of the special circumstances in which Belgium became involved in the war and the attitude of this country toward Belgium, it was felt that the United States might well agree to make the same agreement respecting pre-armistice loans to Belgium, as England and France offered to do.

Advances Made.

"Advances made by the treasury to the Belgian government from the beginning of the war to the armistice, amounted to $171,750,000. This principal sum, however, included advances of $499,400 made to enable the Belgians to pay the interest due November 15, 1917 and $1,571,468.42 to enable the payment of the interest due May 15, 1918. The interest on the advances has been paid up to April 15, 1919, the interest due from May 15, 1918, to that date having been paid out of treasury loans, for which the United States holds Belgian obligations which, however, were made after November 11, 1918, the date of the armistice. This latter advance would not come within the terms of the agreement above mentioned. If, therefore, the United States accepts payment of Belgian obligations, given before the armistice by receiving a corresponding amount of German obligations, it would seem that it should receive German obligations amounting to $171,750,000, with interest from April 15, 1919.

"Although it is understood that Belgium will take [illegible] that the reparation commission [illegible] determined to [illegible] the receipt [illegible] the German [illegible] recommendation at this time [illegible] legislative action [illegible] be taken, may appear somewhat premature, but in view of the approaching termination of the administration I have brought this matter to your attention, hoping that suitable action may be taken at the appropriate time.

[Signed] "Woodrow Wilson.

SISTER COMES TO TAKE BARNETT TO CLEVELAND

But Law Interferes, and She Returns Alone.

MURDER SUSPECT IS STILL HELD IN JAIL

Cleveland Police Chief Declares Caledonia Arrest Furnishes Best Clew So Far.

Mrs. George Brown, No. 5507 Venning court, East Cleveland, sister of Robert Barnett, who is being held at the Marion county jail as a suspect in the case of the murder of the two Parma High school teachers in Cleveland last week, visited with her brother at the jail here today.

Mrs. Brown reached Marion Monday evening with the intention of taking her brother home with her. In the absence of any word from Cleveland authorities today to release her brother from suspicion in the murder case, Mrs. Brown was forced to return to her home this afternoon without taking the brother.

Reticent at First.

This morning Mrs. Brown was very reticent in discussing the case. At first she said she had absolutely nothing to say for publication and added that the papers have already published too much about her brother.

Later Mrs. Brown stoutly maintained that her brother could not have been connected with the murder, but could not account for his whereabouts excepting by repeating the details told her by Barnett.

Mrs. Brown verified her brother's age and the fact that he had visited her home for a time in January. She stated Barnett went to her home about the middle of January and remained there until February 4, when he went to Detroit to visit with a cousin. Yesterday Barnett stated he left his sister's residence in Cleveland in the middle of January and went to Warren, Michigan, near Detroit, to work on a farm.

Can't Account for It.

In the face of reports from Cleveland that Sheriff Stannard expressed the belief that the arrest of Barnett furnishes the most substantial clew obtained in the four-day search for the slayer of the two women, local officials are unable to account for the lack of any word from Cleveland in answer to their message to Cleveland authorities telling of the arrest.

Neither the police nor the sheriff has received word from Cleveland or Shelby, where Barnett claims he slept in the police station last Wednesday night.

SYNDISALISM ACT FAVORED BY DAVIS

Governor Would Not Have Ohio Measure Repealed.

Columbus, Feb. 22.—Characterizing efforts to bring about the repeal of the criminal syndicalism law enacted by the legislature two years ago as "anti-American and pro-Bolshevik," Governor Davis came out in opposition to the movement and declared that he would be against proponents of the repeal with all his authority. The governor said that repeal of the syndicalism law would amount virtually "to open invitation by Ohio to the advocates of bloodshed and destruction to make this state their unlimited field of action.

"There is no room in Ohio for that sort of doctrine," the governor declared. "This law was enacted for the protection of American institutions and aimed against anarchistic plots. It makes a felony to advocate a doctrine of crime, malicious injury or destruction, violence or unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing industrial or political reform."

C. P. Miller, living in [illegible] as Newark was arrested by an officer of the law, Monday evening, on a charge of illegal trafficking. He entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before the mayor and was fined five dollars and given a chance to work out the amount on the streets.

LUMBER MEN IN CONSPIRACY

Charged Association Is Holding Up Prices.

ANTI-TRUST SUIT IN FEDERAL COURT

Injunction Sought To Restrain Yellow Pine Association from Alleged Dealing.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The government, at the direction of Attorney-General Palmer, yesterday, entered suit in federal district court at St. Louis against the Southern Pine association, some fifty of its principal member companies and seventy individuals, charging conspiracy to curtail the production and increase the price of yellow pine lumber in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

A temporary injunction was sought to restrain the defendants from further engaging in an alleged conspiracy "to increase the prices of yellow pine lumber by curtailing, and restricting the amount of such lumber produced in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, sold and shipped into Missouri, through that state, and into other states to the North, East and West; and by coordinating at higher levels, the selling prices of all such persons so producing, selling and shipping such lumber."

"Unless this court shall promptly issue its preliminary injunction restraining the defendants," the government's brief, made public here, said, "from further doing the things aforesaid, they will hereby continue the shortage of yellow pine lumber in comparison with the actual requirements of the country, and further enormously enhance the prices thereof to be paid by the consuming public, without possibility of reparation, and they will thus aggravate the existing housing shortage and suspension of necessary building operations in many parts of the country, particularly in large centers of population, so as to menace the industrial and economic welfare of large numbers of the people of the United States."

The defendants, the brief declared, include the most influential members of the Southern Pine association, eleven of them producing over 100,000,000 feet of yellow pine lumber a year, or more than forty per cent. of the entire output of the association.

The purpose of the association, the government charged, was to permit its members to further the conspiracy charged. By the publication of "trade barometers," the brief alleged, curtailment of production was effected and through lists of so-called "average prices" prices are kept at high levels while various trade information was circulated among the defendants in the interest of the alleged conspiracy.

Suit against the association and the different members, department of justice officials explained, was ordered as a result of a report based on an investigation undertaken a year ago by the federal trade commission at the request of the department.

VICTIMS DIE IN BURNING CARS

Two Burned Beyond Recognition Today, Is Belief.

TWO TROLLEY CARS CRASH HEAD-ON

Meet at Bridge Over Deep Ravine Near Shelton, Connecticut—Moving Rapidly.

Shelton, Connecticut, Feb. 22.—At least two passengers are believed to have been burned to death, twelve injured are in a hospital in Derby, five of them probably fatally burned or injured and a number of others were slightly hurt, when two trolley cars collided, two miles below Shelton Center, this afternoon.

The cars took fire and burned furiously, some of the passengers being trapped in the wreckage. Others who escaped attempted, unsuccessfully, to extinguish the flames with snow.

Local firemen were called and managed to get to the scene over the snow-blocked road, but they could do little, except to assist in getting the injured to the Griffin hospital.

The two bodies believed to be in the wreckage, were thought to be children, who were pinned in and unable to escape.

A tank of gasolene is said to have been in one of the cars and this is believed to have been the cause of the quick spread of the fire.

AT THE TARGETS

Not Up to Mark.

The members of the local Rifle club, which is represented in the National contest, are not securing as good start as they did last season, although the scores of all the clubs will be cut down materially as a result of half the weekly contests being off-hand shooting. In the first week's contest the locals scored 703 off-hand, out of a possible 1,000. In the second match, which was prone shooting, the locals made a score of 974. In the off-hand match last week the five highest scores of the ten shooters totalled 696. The scores were as follows:

M. E. Carroll, 147; J. E. Messenger, 141; John Martin, 134; Ray Williams, 133; L. D. Brady, 131; P. Buchrmund, 125. Fred Morrison, 114; J. Plummer, 110; G. C. Whaley, 107, and E. W. Imbody, 105.

STAR WITNESS BADLY SHAKEN

Defense Scores a Triumph in Williamson Trial.

MATEWAN DENTIST CHANGES TESTIMONY

Is Not Sure That Detective Felts Does Not Fire First Shot in Gun Battle.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 22.—"Boomerang testimony" by two state's witnesses marked today's hearings in the trial of "Trigger" Trial.

On top of the reversal of Dentist Hill's testimony of Saturday, the defense scored a second triumph at the afternoon session, when Elijah Bure, a union miner, an eye-witness to the Matewan gun battle, testified to the effect that Detective Albert Felts was still standing in the door of Chambers' hardware store—where the fight started—when C. C. Testerman, mayor of Matewan, fatally wounded, was holding his side, staggered forward two steps and fell.

The testimony of this witness surprised the prosecution. Captain S. B. Avis, examining for the state, expressed his surprise to the court in insisting on asking certain questions. Burke's story, today, Avis intimated, did not jibe with his previous examination by state's lawyers.

Pressed by Avis, the witness admitted he saw Tom West, counsel for the defense, after his examination by the state's lawyers the other day.

Hears Shots.

Burke testified he passed out of the Chambers store between Felts and Testerman, who stood in the door, when the shooting started.

"I heard two pistol shots, just like that," said the witness, snapping his fingers twice.

He said he saw Felts fall just as he heard these two shots. The detective fell against his leg, he added and he saw blood on his leggins.

Burke's testimony, today, led to sharp exchanges between counsel for state and defense.

Ex-Judge Marcum suddenly jumped to his feet and shouted:

"All of counsel for the prosecution will join me in saying that we are surprised at the answers this witness has given to question under cross-examination.

For fully two minutes, Judge Marcum and J. J. Conniff talked at the same time at the top of their voices.

The witness admitted to Captain Avis that he had talked with one of the defending attorneys about his private examination by state's counsel.

"Haven't you been trying to aid these defendants?" asked Captain Avis.

"I haven't sworn to any lies," answered Burke.

"I'm asking you whether you haven't been trying, as best you could to help these defendants."

"Yes, sir, if it takes the last dollar I've got, they can have it," answered the witness.

Working Hard.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 22.—J. J. Conniff, "master entangler," worked like a Trojan over a state's star witness, today. It was his first great chance since a seventeen-year-old girl had crumbled under his relentless nagging tactics. He won again. It was the second great triumph for the defense in the "trigger" trial.

Dr. W. F. Hill, Matewan dentist, was the witness. Conniff made him reverse his testimony of Saturday. He made him admit he could not "swear positively" that Detective Albert Felts could not have fired the first shot in the Matewan battle, without him, Dr. Hill, seeing him fire it.

The grilling was short, but terrific.

By easy stages, with an ever so calm voice that kept its even tenor even when interrupted at critical moments just as the victim on the stand was about to "snap," Conniff led the witness to the crucial point. Hill had testified for hours as a state's witness, Saturday. He had told of the beginning of the bullet battle in front of Chambers' hardware store at Matewan, May 19, last. His testimony had virtually featured the first shot on the defendants and inferentially, on Sid Hatfield.

Conniff made him go all over the scene, today, using the open door directly behind Judge Robert D. Bailey's bench to illustrate. Suddenly he plunged into the main question: Whether Hill actually could see Felts' both hands and arms so plainly, at the time the first shot was fired, that he, Hill, would have seen it had Felts fired it.

Partly Screened.

Collapse of the damaging part of Hill's testimony came when Conniff established that a third man—Detective Cunningham, a man of powerful build—stood between Hill and Felts and partly screened the witness' view of Felts.

"As a matter of fact," Conniff almost shouted suddenly, "you do not know whether Albert Felts fired the first shot or not!"

"I can't swear positively."

"You can't swear at all that he did or did not fire the first shot—can you?"

"I can swear positively that I didn't see it."

"You will not swear that he could not have done it?"

"No, I won't swear that."

"As far as you can tell you saw the men there—that's all you can be positive about, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

Helps State.

An eighteen-year-old boy helped the state offset, to some extent, the reverse suffered early today by Conniff, of the defense.

The youth, George Williams, testified he heard the first shot and ran for shelter. After a while, he said he saw Jess Boyd, one of the nineteen accused, do some shooting.

"Let me have your pistol a minute," said Captain S. B. Avis, state's counsel, to E. W. Walker, a deputy sheriff. Walker threw a shiny .38 Smith & Wesson from his hip, clicked it open, let six cartridges fall in the hollow of his hand and gave the gun to the lawyer.

Avis handed the pistol to the boy witness. "You stand right down here and point your pistol the way Jess Boyd was pointing his pistol."

The witness had testified he saw two bodies and one man, evidently wounded, crawling on hands and knees.

The young witness put one foot forward, held the pistol in true shooter's fashion, squinting an eye and pointing it to the ground at a "target," three or four feet away.

All heads in the court-room were eagerly bent forward. The jury was interest personified. It was an illustration singularly appropriate in the "trigger trial."

Some Scenes.

Under cross-examination, the boy admitted he was a former member of the miners' union, but has been working for the last seven months for a coal company.

Another boy witness, Clyde Long, seventeen, testified he heard Sid Hatfield say "come on, boys, get your hardware."

The Long boy testified he saw a wounded man lying in the street and heard a woman say, to Hallie Chambers, one of the defendants:

"Let's turn him over, Hallie." To which Hallie replied, according to the witness: "No, let's not bother."

"At that time, the man was alive and struggling?" asked Captain Avis.

"Yes, sir."

Later on, according to the boy's story, he heard Sid Hatfield says to a man: "Hold up your hands—are you a Felts man?"

The man answered he was not, whereto Sid said, according to the witness: "It's a damned good thing you're not—I'd blow your brains out if you were."

The vote was regarded as a test of strength between the opponents and supporters of the Winslow-Townsend bill authorizing partial payments to the railroads from the United States treasury and as foreshadowing the subsequent passage of the measure, itself.

FEBRUARY HAS MADE RECORD THAT'S IDEAL

And There's No Chance To Spoil It Now.

Six more days remain in February!

Of the twenty-two days so far of this usually "stormy petrel" in the calendar of months, Marionites have nothing to kick about. Fact is, for the most part, all Marion is indeed indebted to February for its many glorious April days in 1921. For every nice day in February, the reasonable-thinking Marionite appreciates that he is just that one day ahead of the game. February heretofore has never been noted for its delightful weather. On the contrary it has been noted for its distressed weather.

Today, like yesterday, was a beautiful day.

When March 1 will have put in its appearance, either gamboling in like a lamb or roaring like a lion, there will be no record left to besmirch fair February, for had weather, whether or not, for the remainder of the month, won't change the fact that this month has been so ideal and gentle that December and January ought to be ashamed of themselves.

Will See Governor—The board of hospital commissioners held a meeting at the office of the mayor, Monday afternoon, and discussed matters pertaining to the City hospital. Plans were made for a committee to go to Columbus, this week, to confer with Governor Harry L. Cadet McCormick Honored—E. M. Almont, professor in military science and tactics of Marion Institute, Army and Navy college, at Marion, Alabama, has appointed Cadet Junior McCormick of Marion, captain of C company rifle squad "to act as coach and instruct the men as he sees fit." Milling on West Side—Frank James and William Dorsey, colored, engaged in some trouble on the extreme West Side, Monday afternoon, which terminated by Dorsey putting James out of the milling by hitting him on the head with the large end of a billiard cue. Andrews and as they were satisfied to drop the enmity, the mayor let them off with fines of five dollars each.

May Organize Moose Band—Two candidates were initiated, ten applications balloted on and twelve applications received at a largely-attended meeting of the Moose, Monday night. A committee from the Kenton lodge was present and extended an invitation for the local degree team to put on the work at that place in the near future. Plans were discussed for organizing a lodge band of over thirty pieces and an orchestra. Arrangements were also made for a delegation to attend the meeting of the Moosehart Legion, at Galion, February 27.

ACCEPTS PLANS FOR NEW SCHOOL-HOUSE

Which Will Be Located on North Main Street.

FOUR ROOMS ESTIMATED TO COST NEARLY $5.000

Spring Vacation Set for Week Beginning Monday, March 28—Remodeling Plans.

Preliminary plans for a four-room fireproof building to be constructed on the Philip Linn site on north Main street were accepted by the board of education at its regular meeting in the High school building Monday night. The plans were submitted by Jacobs & Wooley, architects, and provide for a building at an estimated cost of $43,553.71. Final plans for the structure are to be presented at the next regular meeting March 7.

Estimates on both composite and fireproof construction were presented by the architects. The cost for composite construction was placed at $45,147.87. It was explained that this method would necessitate the construction of additional walls and exits, which would interfere not a little with the construction of an addition should the attendance later justify it. Members of the board felt that the comparatively slight difference in cost did not justify the erection of a composite building.

Brief Description.

A completely-modern two story building is provided for in the plans, with two class rooms, each with a capacity of forty pupils on each floor. The entrance is in the center of the building and at the rear of the first floor hall is a rest room. On the second floor, at the rear of the hall, a library is provided for; and in front is a teachers' room, or office. The basement provides ample space for the heating plant, coal storage, lavatory fixtures and a play room twenty one by thirty-three and one-half feet. The rear of the building is constructed so that four additional rooms can be easily added to the structure.

Estimates presented by the architects include heating, plumbing, equipment, grading, sodding, walks and architects' fees. In adopting the plan the board provided that as many alternate proposals as possible be included in the specifications and in this way it may be possible to reduce the cost of the building considerably below the estimate. It was pointed out that the board now owns furniture sufficient to equip the building and this item alone will reduce the estimated cost approximately $1,000.

Well Pleased With Plans.

Board members were well pleased with the plans drawn by the architects. Today the architects are to visit the site to secure the grade and determine the depth of the soil and the nearness of the rock to the surface. It was stated last night that it will be necessary to blast through the rock to put in the sewer for the building.

Plans and specifications for the remodeling of the Central school building are to be presented to the board by J. Lewis Ellis, architect, at the next regular meeting.

It was decided that the spring vacation of one week shall begin Monday, March 28. Requests for the use of the departmental building for a recital and the Oak Street Community club for an entertainment in the Oak Street building were presented and action deferred. Requisitions from the offices of the superintendent and principal of the High school were allowed.

SUBSTANTIAL DECREASE IN ALL RETAIL PRICES

Reflected by Comparisons of Six Months and Year Ago.

PRESENT PRICES IN SOME INSTANCES LOWER

Charges at Restaurants Continue Practically the Same as During the War.

Present retail prices of coal and grocery staples—bread, sugar, flour and potatoes—show substantial decreases from the prices of the same products six months ago and in some instances have dropped lower than the prices a year ago.

Coal now retailing at eight dollars a ton was selling for $13 a ton six months ago, while the price a year ago was seven dollars to $7.50 a ton.

Twenty-four ounce loaves of bread, which sold a year ago for fourteen cents and six months ago for sixteen cents, now retail for fifteen cents. This has become the standard size loaf in Marion and only in a few if any cases is any other size loaf baked.

Grocery Staples.

Among the grocery staples present prices of sugar and potatoes perhaps show the greatest decreases from the prices six months and a year ago. A year ago sugar was selling for twenty-two cents a pound and six months ago it had advanced to thirty and thirty-two cents. Today sugar is retailing for ten and eleven cents. Potatoes a year ago were selling to the consumer at four dollars a bushel. Six months ago they had dropped to $1.75 and today potatoes are selling for one dollar a bushel.

Restaurant prices remain practically the same as during the war.

Flour a year ago was selling at $3.40 and $3.50 for a forty-nine pound sack. Six months ago it was retailing for $3.50 and today the same amount is selling for three dollars to $3.25.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Presbyterian Revival.

Assisting in the Newlin meeting at the First Presbyterian church, Monday evening, were the following ministers: Rev. Arthur D. Mink, of Mt. Vernon; Rev. Curtis E. Shields, of Bucyrus, and Dr. T. W. Powell and Rev. J. Byers Brice, of Marion.

Dr. Newlin's sermon dealt with te impossibility of serving two masters and with the necessity of being with Christ or against Him. "It is perfectly possible," said the speaker, "to be for Christ and against Him; to be for Him but not with Him. Pilate was for Christ but with the people. He found no fault with Christ and would gladly have released Him, but he was with the people and against Christ. So it is today. Multitudes of people are for Christ, but not with Him. They are against Him. They do not gather, they scatter."

There were many in the audience who expressed the purpose of returning from following Christ afar off and walking with Him in a more consecrated service.

Mr. Bonney spoke enthusiastically of the children's meeting, Monday afternoon, which was attended by 175 children between the ages of seven and fourteen. These meetings are held every afternoon at 4 o'clock and all children are invited.

The father and son banquet will be held this evening, after which the men and boys will attend the service in a body. Dr. Newlin will have a special message for the occasion.

Trinity Sorority.

Miss Isabel Uncapher was hostess to the members of the Trinity Sorority, of Trinity Baptist church, Monday evening, at her home on Walnut street. There was a good attendance and Mrs. G. S. Sabiston was entertained as a guest. The following were appointed delegates to the state convention of the World Wide guild, which will be held at Dayton, March 4, 5 and 6, Mrs. H. E. Peters, Mrs. Cora Gossler, Misses Louise Tower, Marie Tower, Esith Keeler, Eito Spring, Isabel Uncapher, Gail Gorman and Elsie Barger. A social hour followed the business sessio.

At Nazarene Church.

Rev. J. G. Mayberry, of Philadelphia, arrived in the city last night and will conduct a week's meeting at the Nazarene church. Rev. Mr. Mayberry delivered a sermon to a large congregation last night and will preach every evening this week. An all-day service will be held next Sunday.

Calvary Church Revival.

Still the attendance and interest continues to increase at the Calvary church revival. There was present last night the largest Monday night crowd to date. Twelve persons came to the altar to seek the forgiveness of their sins or the cleansing grace of God. The pastor preached the sermon on the theme, "The Sinner's Pardon." Mr. and Mrs. Reep sang a duet and Mr. Reep sang a solo. Tonight the theme will be "Paul Before Felix."

Rev. Mr. Woodroofe To Preach.

Rev. Robert Scott Woodroofe, rector of Emmanuel church, Cleveland, the largest church in that city, will be the special preacher at the lenten service at St. Paul's Episcpal church tonight.

The service will begin at 7:30 p m. and will consist of the litany with a sermon.

AMERICAN LEGION SHOW DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

Membes of Cooper Post and the W. R. C. Attend.

Approximately 1,500 people, considered an exceptionally large crowd for Monday audiences, attended the first three performances of the McGinnis Post, American legion, benefit show at the Grand theater Monday afternoon and night. Both the afternoon and second evening performances were well attended, but the largest crowd was at the first evening performance, when the house was packed.

Anita Arliss and her Winter Garden boys, one of the headliners of the vaudeville bill, presented a "Study of Symphony and Syncopation." Miss Arliss, who formerly appeared in "The Chocolate Soldier" and "My Cinderella Girl," has with her an orchestra director and four excellent singers and dancers. Their program of singing and dancing made a decided hit and their Spanish dance was especially well received.

Silk & Satin presented a comedy soldier act and a wire act of exceptional quality was given by the Three Raymonds. Fay & Thomas presented a novelty dancing act. Sheperd & Dunn a musical skit consisting of parodies on popular songs and called "Oh, What a Pill was Mary," and the Three Robins gave a program of singing. A reel of Literary Digest topics and a soldier comedy picture, "All Wrong" completed the program.

This afternoon the fourth performance was given and the program will be given twice tonight and three times Wednesday.

Members of Cooper Post, G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief corps have accepted an invitation to be the guests of the legion at the matinee, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Officers of the post have also requested that those who can attend the matinee or second show Wednesday in order to avoid crowding at the first show in the evening.

MY OPINION REGARDING PRICES

During the spring and summer of 1920, prices on clothing reached the highest point and, conditions which are familiar to all, caused a break in retail prices, resulting in reductions of from twenty-five to forty per cent.

These prices reached a level far below the cost of production and the loss was shared by everyone owning a dollar's worth of this peak merchandise and in many instances ran into hundreds of thousand for the large producer, and the buying public is now securing the benefit.

Today's prices have rightfully been termed liquidation prices—because of the mad scramble to get from under heavy stocks and, in many cases, heavy obligations. Reports show that these stocks have been turned into cash, as most of the mercantile houses show big gains in sales of clothing in practically every state.

The above deals with the past season and now for the spring of 1921.

Prices on cloth or finished tailoring will by no means reach the high prices of one year ago. But, based upon costs of production and reduced market values, neither can they remain at today's low, or liquidation levels—but will show an actual reduction of from fifteen to twenty per cent.

This statement is made after a complete study and comparison of various lines of cloths and should be convincing to the frugal buyer that this special sale offers him exceptional opportunity to save money.

European papers now refer to Uncle Sam as a loan shark. Still, it might be worse. They might call him a profiteer.

Teeth have been suggested for the league of nations, but nobody has had the nerve to suggest more lung power.

The thing is so obvious, that it's hard to understand how any nation on earth doesn't realize that war doesn't pay.

Now had that woman robbed of $30,000 worth of jewels while enroute to New York been the wife of a paragrapher it would have been our idea of a real news item.

The banking scheme of the Non-Partisan league of North Dakota was a lot like Ponzi's in one respect; it was all right so long as it worked.

What if the league of nations does get peeved and moves its capital away from Switzerland. She will still have her scenery.

In the face of last year's sugar crop, it will be patent that any sugar famine in 1921 will be of the manufactured variety.

"Facts are stranger than fiction," says the Toledo Blade. "A school teacher has married the janitor." Maybe she wanted to be assured of a good living.

"Calves Higher," reads a head, but possibly all the headliner meant was that they can be seen higher.

Congress voted $150,000,000 to be used by President Wilson "at his discretion for the national security and defense." The time to have attached a string to it, if any, was then and not now.

Now had it been other than an American ship that reported a part of its propeller bitten off in the Caribbean by a fish, the thing would be easier to understand.

Now there is talk of a receiver for North Dakota. North Dakota is the state in which it has been discovered that there is a goodly-sized gap between theory and experience in the matter of banking.

A fashion note says that it's impossible that women will ever take to woolen socks. Rot! Nothing is impossible after galoshes.

As a rule, when a glowing prospectus makes an offer of five per ten shares of common stock thrown in for lagniappe with each share of preferred purchased it's safe to conclude that it's wildcat.

"Go back far enough," says the Baltimore Sun, "and you will find some of your ancestors who did their own washing." And they didn't press a button and let the electric washing machine do the rest, either.

"If it weren't that a woman would be a crime in this country," observed the restaurant philosopher at luncheon today, "you'd rather lean to the view that the crime was in the lack of general cussedness."

Any young husband who knows his business will tell his wife that the story to the effect that a Mr. Frank Valentine has married the "most perfect girl in America" is all rot.

The pen may or may not be mightier than the sword, but with his typewriter Colonel George M. Bailey, of the Houston Post, has added two counties to Ohio, and we never heard of a sword doing anything like that.

A MOST SENSIBLE DECISION.

The action of the supreme court of Pennsylvania in sustaining the three judges of Allegheny county in disbarring an attorney, on the charge that he was a self-confessed enemy of the principles of the American government, places a premium on the profession of law which should not be minimized.

According to testimony placed before the county judges by the bar association, the attorney in question declared that he was a communist, an anarchist, syndicalist and an atheist; that he did not consider that the oath he took to become a member of the bar had any claim upon his regard as against his personal opinions.

As an attorney for steel strikers of the Pittsburgh district in 1919, he proclaimed himself in favor of "direct action" as it was preached by the communists, and that he was heartily in sympathy with Russian Bolshevism and opposed to the "present order" as it is carried out by the government of the United States.

"Attorneys-at-law," the decision of the supreme court said, "stand in a position entirely different from that of ordinary persons. Upon the latter are imposed the usual duties of citizenship and loyalty. The former are educated and trained for high duties in administering and maintaining the laws of the land. The obligation of the oath they have taken must at all times be observed in spirit as well as in letter, and they must continue to be fit to exercise their high office."

The decision of the court, broadly stated, is that an attorney who can not give his unqualified allegiance to the government of the United States and the state in which he lives isn't fit to participate in administering the laws of the nation.

No confessed or convicted enemy of the constitution of the United States should be permitted to have a part in the operation and enforcement of laws which are as odious to him as they are to the professed anarchist.

INAUGURAL EXPENSES.

[Ohio State Journal]

President-Elect Harding's action in forbidding an elaborate and costly ceremony in connection with his inauguration brought disappointment to some people. But indications are not lacking to prove that his course was in harmony with the judgment of the vast majority of the American people and has received their approval. Many Ohio friends were fearful of the result of his veto of the formal inauguration plans. They believed the public would prefer the elaborate exercises in view of the fact that the cost would be borne by private subscription. They felt a better impression on the nation might be made if the stately ceremonials were employed, even though the cost was heavy. There are good reasons for the statement that the veto of the plans was his own, that he followed his own judgment in that action, that he refused to be swayed even by the advice of those whose friendship he had no reason to doubt.

Now that he has gone very much farther and has sanctioned the most rigid economy in connection with the inaugural ceremony, the complete elimination of all show, fuss and parade, those close to him admit that, once more, he followed his own judgment. And the strong note of public approval of the full measure of economy he has sanctioned, if it actually surged, shows he is fully supported by American sentiment. Apparently [illegible] parades [illegible] and its to have been to shame the millions of Americans back home who [illegible] the [illegible] and has [illegible] The latest evidence [illegible] the example of [illegible] and that is in line and that is an emphatic [illegible] of the idea that are to be taken to the White House in a few days and fully carry the promise that the interest of the millions of home folks will not be forgot in that business prudence and economization of expenses will be applied. In the full exemplification of these ideas the next few years has abundant reason to expect colorful and yet general approval.

PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH.

Practice what you preach.

Certain objectionable conditions exist in a community.

Gambling or boot-legging is going on.

You know it—and I know it; and we talk against it—preach against it.

But do we help the officers to rid the community of it?

If these officers call upon us to make affidavit against the offenders, do we cumply—or do we flatly refuse?

Do we practice what we preach?

A case of contagious disease exists in the neighborhood; and the family, or the physician in attendance, hides it—fails to report it.

You know of it—I know of it; and we do a deal of complaining about it.

But do we report it? Do we play the part of good citizens, by doing our plain duty? Or do we simply go on grumbling, neglecting to do anything else—for fear of offending some one and injuring our business?

Do we practice what we preach?

The great John Ruskin was a man who practiced what he preached. London, in many of its physical and moral aspects, filled him with righteous fury—made his heart sick. Especially did he deplore the conditions of London's suburbs and slums. Their filth, ugliness and misery disgusted him. He preached against these conditions, but he didn't rest content with just preaching. He was the owner of some tenements inherited from his father. He entrusted this property to an agent, with instructions to clean things up, improve condition:—and to exact only a moderate and fair rent; and to use the income for the still further betterment of the tenements. Disliking greatly the filthy condition of the streets near his property, he got permission of the city authorities to have them cleaned at his own expense. Noting that the neighboring tea-shops were profiteering upon the poor of the neighborhood, Ruskin started a tea-shop of his own. He installed two old servants of his mother, as keepers of the shop; and the tea that was served was pure and no profiteering was practiced. The tea-shop ran for many years; and gave reality to Ruskin's [illegible]

John Ruskin preached what he preached.

Do you do that?

Do I do that?

Let's—practice—what—we—preach!

THE IMPOSSIBLE.

With God all things are possible, He said; and one [illegible] at heart, has asserted that nothing is impossible to men.

Maybe so!

But did you ever try to understand a woman?

Did you ever stop to ascertain why a dog turns round before it lies down?

Did you ever attempt to write a check with a bank pen?

Did you ever seek to find out how some folks get along?

Did you ever try to do without sleep?

Did you ever succeed in taking castor oil?

Did you ever aim to reform the world?

Did you ever attempt to tell the truth?

There are some things that simply can't be done; they belong to the realm of the impossible.

DR. LINIUS L. STROCK SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Principal K. H. Marshall then called on Paul Almendinger to say a word concerning the play, "Dido," in which Mr. Almendinger played his part so excellently. Mr. Almendinger ... expressed his hearty appreciation of the support the student body gave the play.

Washington Program.

Following the Washington program was started. G. E. Bonney, the singer who is assisting in services being held at the First Presbyterian church, sang "America For Me," the words of which are those in Henry Van Dyke's famous poem of the same name. As an encore, Mr. Bonney sang "When the Americans Come."

Dr. Linius L. Strock was then introduced and gave a splendid talk, the text of which was "Washington, the Father of His Country." Dr. Strock described Washington as the fighter, a man of power and as a man of purity. He said that Washington believed in God and a divine providence and that this molded his life and formed the character which was so responsible for the greatness of the man.

In bringing out the purity of the great American leader, Dr. Strock said that there was no surer guarantee of future success than that of purity in thought, speech, ideals and actions.

Patriotic Songs.

Following this talk, Mr. Bonney again sang and led the students in the singing of several patriotic songs. These were greatly assisted by the accompaniment of the High school orchestra. The meeting ended with the "High school orchestra." The meeting ended with the repeating of the "Lord's Prayer."

In the east hall the singing of several patriotic songs and a very interesting, illustrated lecture by J. B. Conard, a member of the faculty, constituted the program for the freshmen. This meeting was closed with the singing of the school song.

First Preliminary.

The four-round match between "Young" Kemple, of Bowling Green, and "Dutch" Holland, of Lima, was very much even throughout. This match was at 132 pounds and the boxers gave a nice exhibition, they carrying the fighting to each other and doing some clever blocking and covering.

The six-round preliminary between "Greek" Masterpool, of Alliance, and "Tommy" Burns, of Lima, furnished as much excitement as the main bout. The boxers entered the ring at 158 pounds each and the milling was fast from start to finish. Masterpool showed superiority in footwork and science, but did not land any harder punches than he was compelled to take. Masterpool exhibited he was older at the game, but his adversary appeared to be in better physical condition, although Masterpool came out the fresher at the finish.

Guile, Thy Name is Woman, and Sometimes She Finds It Is Her Only Buckler and Sword, as Did the Girl in This Story, Who Fought for Her Happiness

I'd like to stay in a place like this It's so different from the city

D[illegible] and letter [illegible] typewriter [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Holding A Husband

BY ADELE GARRISON.

Lillian told me afterward [illegible] my lower jaw dropped as the [illegible] so rapidly at Mr. Jones' announcement of the sale figure of the [illegible] at which we were looking that I [illegible] forced I never would be able to [illegible] it back into place again. I [illegible] her only that for several seconds I [illegible]

Lillian's face was [illegible] now that the color flamed [illegible] as she was deeply hurt, and I hastened to persuade her [illegible] the situation.

"I am afraid we have [illegible] evidently misled you, Mr. Jones," I said with all the dignity I could muster, though I felt anything but dignified. "Forty thousand dollars is far more than we could possibly invest in a home. If you have anything to show us for less than that sum we shall be glad to look at it. But this sort of thing is preposterous."

I do not know whether he caught my full meaning, for I referred as much to the exorbitant price set on the property as I did to my indignity to touch the figure, but his florid face reddened still more, and he said with a touch of stiffness:

"We will go back and look at the places we have advertised. Those are probably within your means."

It may have been only the hallucination of my own sensitiveness, already irritated, but I never have heard anything quite so subtly depreciative and maddening as the phrase "within our means," uttered in the manner Mr. Jones used. I think he was thoroughly annoyed at finding we belonged to the lower stratum of purchasers, for he strode ahead of us down the path to the gate.

"I warn you, Madge," Lillian murmured to me as we solemnly followed him, "that I shall be arrested for murder before this day is over. There are two phrases that make me see blood. One is 'the housing situation,' and the other is 'everything has gone up because of the war.' Of all the miserable profiteering, thieving slogans that ever masked second-story work, old-fashioned burglars would blush at, those are the worst! I've managed to control myself so far, but if that old goat gets off any more such spiels as that little 'within your means' stunt I shall forget that I am a lady, a descendant of a proud southern or northern [illegible] or eastern or western family, and soak him one."

I shuddered a plenty! I couldn't help at Lillian's nonsense, and walked more rapidly to the gate, climbed into the car and started it, decorously accepting Mr. Jones' rather chilly instructions as to direction.

"We will look at the acre property first," he said loftily.

Alas for my dreams of a tumble-down place which Dicky and I could remodel according to our own fancy as we had begun to do with the Marvin home! As we drew up to the "acre property" I felt like paraphrasing the old nursery question: "Acre, acre, who's got the acre?" A small house, attractive enough with vines clambering over it, stood within fifteen feet of the sidewalk on a narrow lot. The houses on either side were so close that with windows open the neighbors could chat as easily as if they were in the same house. A lone lilac bush occupied the front yard, but we could see glimpses of taller trees back of the house.

"Did you say there was an acre here?" I asked.

"Oh, yes! Just come back here and see. The best part of this property is in the rear."

From sheer curiosity we followed him back of the house, which had several queer little ells and outbuildings, through a quaint little back yard with several wonderful trees, to a fence, over which Mr. Jones waved his hand.

"There's land enough for you," he said proudly.

We faced a lot as narrow in front as the one on which the house stood but stretching to the next street, with not a single tree on it. I looked at it a minute, and turned

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups and cheaper at. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the qualities of [illegible] cough remedy, you probably could not get so much real relief as you get from this simple home-made recipe which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, strained molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickling and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchial croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a purified concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COUGHED FOR 2 YEARS ORDERED TO DENVER

Doctor said she couldn't get well in Illinois, but she did.

"I had a very bad cough for 2 years, all the time, day and night. Could sleep but little. I tried everything but got no relief. Finally my doctor said he could do no more for me, that I had better go to Denver as I couldn't live in Illinois. Then I tried Milks Emulsion. From the very first, it helped me. By the time I had taken 15 bottles, my cough left me entirely. I have gained in strength and flesh and am now in perfect health."—Mrs. Alice M. Huntley, 152 N. Pearl St., Galesburg, Ill.

Build up your system and give it a chance to fight off disease. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try and it has done the work for thousands of others.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

SLOAN'S GOES RIGHT TO THE ACHING SPOT

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good

[illegible] when the [illegible] "grip" [illegible] Sloan's Liniment [illegible] over a hundred million [illegible] using [illegible]

A little in all the [illegible] penetrates without rubbing. Clean. No mess, no stained skin. All druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

"Bayer" on Genuine

Warning! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for 21 years and proved safe by millions.

You must say BAYER

SAFETY FIRST! Accept only an "unbroken package" of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," which contains proper directions for Headache, Earache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, and pain generally. Strictly American!

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents—Larger packages.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

Physician Tells Weak, Nervous People How to Get Back Health and Strength.

Do not buy expensive tonics nor worthless concoctions. A pure organic phosphate such as Bitro-Phosphate taken at meal times will supply the blood, bone and muscles just what they need to put life and strength into tired, worn-out nervous bodies. Bitro-Phosphate is safe to take and can be obtained from The Rexall Store or any good druggist at reasonable cost.—Adv.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils get open, breathing becomes easy and the mucus stops dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone having hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning, the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Advt.

MOTHER!

"California Syrup of Figs" Child's Best Laxative

Accept "California" Syrup of Figs only—look for the name California on the package, then you are sure your child is having the best and most harmless physic for the little stomach, liver and bowels. Children love its fruity taste. Full directions on each bottle. You must say "California."—Adv.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur As Told When Your Skin Breaks Out.

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

After Flu Had Kidney Trouble

Painesville, Ohio.—"I have been taking Dr. Pierce's medicines for some time and they have helped me. When I began taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Anuric (anti-uric acid) Tablets' I was in bed, had had the 'flu' and pneumonia and at the time I began taking these medicines was sick with inflammation of the stomach and liver. At times I would be very bad for a month or more with kidney trouble, but I have not had trouble with my kidneys since I began these medicines. GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE DUMP CART.

(BY HOWARD R. GARIS.)
(Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" Don't you want to play with us?" called some happy, jolly voices one morning, as the bunny rabbit gentleman was hopping away from his hollow stump bungalow to look for an adventure.

"Play with you? What game do you want me to play and who are you?" asked Mr. Longears, thinking might be trying to trap him.

"We want you to play the dump cart game," the voices said, and, looking around, Uncle Wiggily saw Sammie and Susie Littletail, the two rabbit children.

"The dump cart game—I never heard of such a thing!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, very glad to see Sammie and Susie, instead of a fox or wolf. "I've heard of blind man's bluff, hop tag, squat tag, wood nag, hide and find yourself and many games, but never dump cart. What is it, Sammie?"

"Oh, I have a toy dump cart that Santa Claus brought me for Christmas," explained the rabbit boy. "It's like an express wagon, only it has but two wheels instead of four. And Susie and I load it with stones, dirt and snow, and we play we're digging a cellar. Then when we have the dump cart loaded, we haul it to where we want it and when I pull on a little handle the cart dumps the load that's in it."

"Let's show Uncle Wiggily," suggested Susie.

So the rabbit children loaded the cart with some stones and a little snow, which they scraped up off the ground. Then Sammie pulled the cart to the edge of a hole.

"Watch Uncle Wiggily!" cried Sammie. "I'm going to dump it now."

The rabbit boy pulled on a handle at the front of the cart, and, all at once, the whole body tipped over backward, letting the stones, dirt and snow slide out. The wheels of the dump cast didn't go up in the air, though. They remained on the ground.

"Isn't that fun, Uncle Wiggily?" cried Sammie.

"And don't you want to play it?" asked Susie.

"Indeed the dump cart game is lots of fun, and I'll play a little while with you," said the bunny.

Sammie tilted the square box-like body of the cart down again, and fastened it in place with an iron pin.

"Now we'll let you dump the next load, Uncle Wiggily," said the rabbit boy. So when the little cart was filled the bunny rabbit gentleman took it to the edge of the hole, pulled the handle and out dumped the load.

"This is lots of fun," said Mr. Longears, "but if Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, my muskrat lady housekeeper saw me, she would say I was queer. Well, maybe I am."

Uncle Wiggily played dump cart with Sammie and Susie for some time and then, all of a sudden, along came Billie and Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boys.

"Oh! Sammie and Susie! Come on to the duck pond and slide," chattered Billie. "We've made a lovely slide there!"

"All right," answered Sammie. "You take care of my dump cart, please, Uncle Wiggily," he called to the rabbit gentleman. "Susie and I are going sliding."

"All right," said Mr. Longears. "I who was very good natured. "I'll take it home for you!" So Uncle Wiggily started pulling the empty dump cart along. He had not gone very far before, all of a sudden, out from the bushes at the side of the path, jumped the sad old Fox.

"Oh ho!" cried the Fox. "You fooled the wolf and me last time, Uncle Wiggily, but you can't fool me now and get away. Here I'll jump in this cart and then you just give me a ride home to my den. And when I get you there I'll nibble your ears!"

"Go on!" he called to Uncle Wiggily.

With that the Fox jumped into the dump cart, and curled himself up sofa cushion like.

"Go on!" he called to Uncle Wiggily. "Run and give me a nice ride before I nibble your ears. Run along!"

Uncle Wiggily said nothing but his pink nose twinkled in a queer way. He pulled the dump cart along until he came to the top of a big hill. Then, suddenly turning the cart around, the bunny pulled the handle.

Dump went the cart, spilling that Fox head over heels down the hill! Over and over he rolled to the bottom.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped along with the empty dump cart. "I did fool you, after all, Mr. Fox!" And the bad chap howled mournfully as he bumped his nose at the bottom of the hill. Once again the bunny was saved.

How to Make Money in "Hard Times"

A secret of that "INDEFINABLE SOMETHING" that enables one man to push ahead and win while twenty others may fail

A man may be a great success in "good times" when the going is easy, but a COMPLETE FAILURE IN "HARD TIMES"—the man worth while is the man who can face the great depression of "hard times" WITH A SMILE and still win.

The constant worry, anxiety, stress and nervous strain that a man is under in "hard times" often saps his vitality, WEAKENS HIS BRAIN AND "WILL POWER" and takes the life and driving force out of his blood, without his fully realizing what has happened to him—he knows SOMETHING IS WRONG, that he is not GETTING AHEAD as he should, but he doesn't know why. IF YOUR BANK BALANCE IS NOT UP TO THE MARK; if things are not coming your way; look into your physical condition.

YOUR BRAIN CANNOT WORK RIGHT—think the thoughts that bring SUCCESS—when YOU LACK BODILY AND MENTAL VIGOR—a great business man has said that genius is nothing but a capacity for hard work—a winner is generally a man who thinks longer and harder than the other fellow—that "indefinable something" that wins is often nothing more than an "IRON WILL" supported by IRON BLOOD.

IRON IS THE MASTER PRINCIPLE OF THE BLOOD and blood is life. It is the iron in your blood that carries oxygen to your brain. Without iron your brain gets no oxygen. Without oxygen your brain becomes dull and heavy; it cannot think right; YOU MAKE BAD DECISIONS; DO FOOLISH THINGS; YOUR INTELLECT IS POOR; YOUR memory often fails—no matter how smart you may be by nature, in your weakened physical and mental condition. YOU ARE certainly NO MATCH for the STRONG, KEEN, CLEAR HEADED MAN with plenty of iron in his blood. Although you may give two men the same fire arms or swords in a battle, the strong, vigorous fellow always has a decided advantage over a weak, tired-out opponent.

WITHOUT IRON YOUR BLOOD ALSO LOSES ITS POWER TO CHANGE FOOD INTO LIVING CELLS AND TISSUE and [illegible] you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full nourishment out of it. In fact, [illegible] times when you eat the most you starve, as your digestive organs are unable to handle much food when your blood lacks iron and you often think you have stomach trouble, when it isn't that at all. Simply get iron and you [illegible]

[illegible] Blood Compound is [illegible] strength and vim [illegible] iron. DON'T TRY TO "FOOL YOURSELF" into thinking you get a pint of "blood and iron" when you have good reason to suspect that you are not—especially WHEN THE SIZE OF YOUR BANK BALANCE [illegible] A MAN WHEN [illegible] HAS LACK IRON.

When you get the [illegible] blood in the veins, when your face [illegible] when you can [illegible] without [illegible] at night; when you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but take some organic iron like NUXATED IRON at once to build up your blood and revitalize your [illegible] and strengthen your nerves. Organic Nuxated Iron often increases the [illegible] and general vigor of weak, tired, nervous, run-down people, in two weeks' time, as it's iron the iron in your blood need. Try this iron to enrich, purify and vitalize. You can get it at any [illegible] It will not [illegible] even add it to your tea. It will not interfere in any way with your daily habits, and often in a few weeks' time, and [illegible] in many cases merely by the action of adding iron to the right forms of iron.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "NUXATED" on every package and the name Nuxated Iron on every tablet. If your druggist will not supply you with Nuxated Iron, send your order to the Nuxated Iron Co., 30 Nuxated Bldg., Atlantic City, N. J.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edwina

When I had let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth and had milked the cow Amily and was feeding my face my ant had to butt in and ast me if I had washed my face and I said I could not remember, so then I had to go out in the kitchen and wash it and my ant and my unkle and grandfather got almost all of the breakfast. My ant said when I got back that no one ever is tempted to kiss a little boy when his face is dirty, so dirt is some use after all.

My grandfather said that George Washington could not tell a lie. He said that the only fella he ever knew that could not tell one was deaf and dumb. He said George would have a hard time making a living today and never would get to be a great man. He asted me if I could tell a lie and I said I could but I wouldn't and then he patted me on the back and said I was just like him, and everybody laughed and my ant sniffed with her nose.

When the bunch came we heard a noise in Mr. Farrel's yard and the whole family was out in the yard tying ribbons on the otis when we got upon the fence, and they was hurrying up, and Frenchy said they were going to be in the peerade, and they got it all covered with ribbons so that they would blow out behind when it went.

Pretty soon they all got in and Mr. Farrel went to start it and it wouldn't go, and he wrapped hot rags around its inwards and everything, and Mrs. Farrell kept telling him to hurry or they would be late, and he kept getting madder and madder, and finely they all got out and said they were going to walk. They went out of the yard and he called the otis a lot of names and started to go in the barn, and then he got so mad he turned around and flung a munky wrench at the otis, and it busted the transom of it, and then he said a lot of sweer words and went in the house, and all of us fellas went to the peerade.

There was a lot of soldiers and a fella on a horse was riding in front of them, and he went to make his horse turn around quirk and it slipped and fell down, and he jumped up and kicked it in the stummick, and a woman had him arrested. We did not see any more of the peerade because we followed the man and the policeman, and the man was all daked up with ribbons and he was so mad he tore them off and jumped on them all the way to the jail. It was a pretty good day. I am kinda sorry George Washington is dead, but we had a good time, and I guess if he could not tell a lie he is better off. If it don't stop getting warm our bump is going to melt.

There is today uncertainty regarding only one place in the Harding cabinet, according to the close advisers of the president-elect. That is in the labor department. For this post it is believed that the choice has narrowed down to two men—James J. Davis, former labor leader and now head of the Loyal Order of Moose and James Duncan, an official of the American Federation of Labor and present head of the Granite Cutters' International union. Chances are said to favor Davis, ultimately, although the latter's friends are unceasing in their efforts to secure his appointment.

Developments.

One of the developments of the clearing-up of the cabinet situation has been to make it virtually certain that there will be no distinct "southern representative" in the cabinet. Alvin Tobias Hert, national committeeman from Kentucky, who was selected in some quarters to get the naval appointment after the Lowden withdrawal, has been finally eliminated. It is believed certain, also, that other southern men, particularly former Senator Newell Sanders, of North Carolina, have been definitely shelved. They may be taken care of in passing out the smaller patronage plums, of which there will be a great number early in the new administration because of the necessity for creating an entirely new shipping board and filling four places, at least, on the Interstate Commerce commission.

Harry M. Daugherty, the new attorney general whom Senator Harding warmly praised, yesterday, figured largely in the final cabinet conferences. He has been in more or less constant conference with the president-elect since his arrival here.

Pays Tribute.

In making the announcement the president-elect paid tribute to Mr. Daugherty, who was his campaign manager, as a splendid man who will make a great attorney general and added that opposition had only strengthened his faith in the wisdom of the appointment. Later Mr. Daugherty issued a brief statement from Harding headquarters, saying that no one could refuse to serve under the circumstances.

Speaking of the cabinet generally Mr. Harding declared three broad principles were guiding his selections. The first quality of an ideal cabinet, he said, was capacity for efficient public service, while the second was an ability to command popular support, and the third must grow out of natural and proper political consideration.

"This is going to be a Republican cabinet," continued the president-elect, "you may count on that. And you may be sure that it will be a cabinet of which the whole country can be proud."

As in the case of Charles E. Hughes, whose appointment as secretary of state was formally announced Saturday, Mr. Daugherty's selection to the cabinet generally had been expected among those close to Mr. Harding. Since he began the uphill fight as manager of the Harding pre-convention campaign early in 1920, Mr. Daugherty has been called into consultation regarding virtually all of Mr. Harding's important political decisions. After the Chicago convention he became a member of the Republican executive campaign committee of five, and since the election has talked with the president-elect many times on the problems that were to face the new administration.

Mr. Daugherty's home is in Columbus, and he is a former member of the Ohio legislature. He has been assistant with Mr. Harding in state politics for many years.

Shipping Matters.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 22.—The president-elect conferred yesterday with Averell Arriman, of the Harriman shipping interests, and said afterward he was much impressed by the argument of shipping men who want the government to "go out of the shipping business."

The president-elect said he regarded the suggestion to abolish the shipping board and create a new executive department to deal with shipping problems as "worth thinking about."

"I think there is a growing feeling," he added, "that the shipping board method of handling the problem is of doubtful value."

The president-elect has but six working days left before inauguration. He is expected to leave here next Sunday night for Marion where he will spend a day winding up personal affairs and receiving a formal farewell that has been arranged by his neighbors and friends.

The week will bring to St. Augustine several more Republican party leaders of first magnitude, probably including some of the men who are to sit in the cabinet.

No Official Notice.

Detroit, Feb. 22.—"I have received no official notification of my appointment as secretary of the navy and can make no statement," Edwin Denby, prominent Michigan Republican, told the International News service, today. In local political circles, the opinion was expressed that such an appointment would be favorably received.

Dr. O. A. Newlin and Evangelist Bonney held a noon meeting today at the Power Manufacturing plant.
